CAMP PROGRAM

18-20 June 2012

Lake Bennett

TalentEd

Developing champions in sport, life & community!

THEME 1: SPORT

'An integral part of being a star is having the will to win.

All Champions have it.'

Betty Cuthbert

Activities that will develop your sport and recreation skills include:

- Fitness: each morning a fitness session will occur– focusing on warm ups, conditioning and strength.
- Recreation: canoeing, mini golf, inspirational movie
- Team Building: challenges and icebreakers focusing on team inter-play
- Health & Nutrition: healthy eating options at camp, healthy lifestyles session
- Sports Mentoring Certificate
- Role models: guest speakers will be elite sports personnel

THEME 2: LIFE

Winning is not just an event, it is an attitude. You can be successful in all areas of life with a will to win:

'The spirit, the will to win, and the will to excel are things that endure. These qualities are so much more important than the events that occur.'

Vince Lombardi

Along with the camp environment that will build independence and resilience, activities that will specifically develop your life skills include:

- Time Management session
- Goal Setting session
- Music Skills – you will create a camp song (and keep CD)
- Inspirational Speakers
- Sports Psychology session – building resilience
- Careers & Training session

THEME 3: COMMUNITY

When we dream, set goals and aim for the stars, great things can happen:

'And as we let our own light shine, we unconsciously give other people permission to do the same.'

Marianne Williamson

Along with the camp environment that will build independence and resilience, activities that will specifically develop your community skills include:

- Media Training & Media Presentation session – how to present yourself in community
- Leadership workshop with Hoops 4 Health
- Volunteer Opportunities with Hoops 4 Health
- Access to professional player management services
- Opportunity to gain Duke of Edinburgh Award
- Support and promotion – through facebook & STAR-WINSIGHT (Starwin Management newsletter)

KARINA GRAY

DIRECTOR - STARWIN MANAGEMENT

Have you ever heard of a place called Geraldton in WA? Geraldton has been producing sporting stars (especially AFL) for several generations. Some of the names gracing our sporting fields today you may know include: Paddy Ryder (Essendon), Harry Taylor (Geelong), Josh Kennedy (West Coast) and Liam Anthony (North Melbourne), to name a few.

I'm not a sports star, but it is where I am from! I completed my education in Perth. Since then I have experience working all over the country, in urban, regional and remote places in WA, ACT and NSW.

After many visits and falling in love with the Territory, I moved to Darwin in January, 2008. Since then, I held positions with Tiwi Islands Shire Council; Darwin High School; NT Department of Health & Families; Saint Marys Football, Sporting & Social Club; and ABC Local Radio – Sport, giving me the opportunity to build strong networks and experience in the community and sports sectors in the NT.

I have a commitment and passion for; working with young people, sport, travelling and community development – inspiring me to establish my own business Starwin Management in April 2010.

MELINDA TURNER

Australian Sports Commission

Melinda Turner is a 33 Aboriginal woman from the NSW South Coast community of Wreck Bay (otherwise known as Jervis Bay.) Melinda has worked as a sports administrator for 15 years with 12 years spent at the Australian Sports Commission (ASC) in the Indigenous, Women and Junior Sport Units. While working full time at the ASC, Melinda studied part time at the University of Canberra and completed a Bachelor of Science – Sports Management Degree. Melinda is currently in the NT coordinating a project to improve the delivery of sport in remote Aboriginal communities.

Melinda's interest in sport comes from her own experience as an athlete, committee member, manager and coach in the sports of Athletics and Touch Football. Melinda's career objective is to enhance her sport knowledge and experience within Australia and internationally with the goal to improve the quality of sporting opportunities for all people.

Life. Be in it.™

BRETT WHEELER

Red Dust Role Models

“The country is so red and the kids’ faces seem to always be smiling”.

“You know, they say it’s great for the kids when we travel to spend time with them. But it works the other way around, too. It’s a great privilege for me to work with these kids”.

Brett Wheeler’s NBL basketball career has spanned twelve years. During this time he has represented the Adelaide 36ers; South East Melbourne Magic; Victoria Titans and Perth Wildcats, winning 2 championships. He has also represented Australia sixteen times.

One of the best ‘big men’ in Australian basketball, ‘Wheels’ is also a talented graphic designer and artist.

ROANNA EDWARDS

Northern Land Council

Roanna Edwards currently works as the Media, Marketing & Communications Manager for the Northern Land Council. Prior to this Roanna was a Sports Broadcaster for ABC radio in WA – in 2010 she was the ABC Sports Broadcaster of the Year. Roanna loves the NT and has also spent time in Alice Springs - presenting for ABC Radio.

Roanna originally joined the ABC on a two-year Indigenous Broadcasting Traineeship and is part of the Grandstand team in WA.

Roanna's radio heroes became colleagues back in December 2005 when she was welcomed into the Perth office alongside Glenn Mitchell, Karen Tighe and the late great Wally Foreman on a two-year Indigenous Broadcasting Traineeship and somehow is still here! The shift to radio came after completing a newspaper cadetship in her hometown of Geraldton and she now vows she'll never go back to print.

Her career highlight came in November 2007 when she was part of Grandstand's coverage of Australia's victorious World Netball Championship campaign in New Zealand – and as a commentator at the 2010 Commonwealth Games in Delhi.

Roanna has a love of basketball and competed in three junior national championships before reducing her commitment to the game due to study and injury. She now plays and coaches for Warriors Basketball Club.

ADAM THOMPSON

Muso Magic

Adam created the music workshop that he has evolved throughout his 10-year association with Red Dust Role Models and its founding organisation, which forms the music program for Red Dust's Lifestyle Education Program.

A singer, songwriter, entertainer and engaging speaker, Adam is widely known for his success as the lead singer for ARIA-award winning band Chocolate Starfish. The band amassed gold and platinum record sales for their debut album, with six Top 40 singles and two Top Ten albums to their name. In his solo career, Adam released 'Reconnected' and continues to entertain, motivate and inspire with his live performances and through his innovative song writing program, Muso Magic.
